Visa document pack

Checklists for eTA, e-visa and visa-on-arrival applications, plus a conference invitation-letter outline.

This pack is a practical checklist. It is not a government form, not a visa, and not legal advice. Rules and fees change. Confirm every item on the official government portal before you apply or travel. Passport Sorted is not a government service and does not apply for visas on your behalf. Last verified against official sources on 21 November 2026.

How to use this pack

Print the relevant checklist. Tick only what the official portal asks for on the day you apply. Leave a blank if a government page is unclear. Apply only on the official domain named on the checklist. Lookalike websites exist for several African e-visa systems.

Before any application

- Passport valid for the period the official page requires (often at least six months after arrival) and, where stated, a blank visa page.
- The passport you will travel on is the one you apply with.
- A recent photograph in the official size and format. If you need a photo file, Passport Sorted checks official photo rules in the browser at passportsorted.com.
- A working email address you can access on the trip.
- A card or official payment method the portal accepts. Keep the official receipt.
- Return or onward travel details if the official page asks for them.
- Accommodation details if the official page asks for them.
- Do not pay a third-party site that is not the official government portal.

This is a short sample of the pack. The full pack adds destination checklists (Kenya eTA, Ethiopia e-visa, Tanzania, Uganda, Rwanda, India e-visa), a conference invitation-letter outline, and a dated list of official portals.

To be told when checkout is live (Gumroad in US dollars, or Paystack in Kenyan shillings for buyers in Kenya), email hello@passportsorted.com with the subject “Visa document pack”.
